

Mink Brar - Revealed.

The first time I caught a glimpse of her was when she was walking towards me, right then I knew what Frodo Baggins must have felt when he saw Arwen for the very first time(Lord of the Rings : The fellowship of the ring ). For those of you who have neither seen the movie nor read the book this analogy probably proved worthless and hence I shall articulate it, Mink looked angel like with her divine face and an ethereal aura of elegance, so much so, that every downright robust and brute man out there who thinks metro sexual is for sissy's would probably go towards the polar opposite of his true self and spend a fortune on his looks just to captivate the attention of this beauty even if only for a fraction of a second.

Enlighten India : Tell us about your journey thus far?

Mink Brar : Well I am a Dev Anand discovery, I never wanted to be an actress, it happened to me. I frequented Germany often and it appears every time I touched base here in India for a vacation or otherwise, I had some or the other offer waiting for me. I was thirteen when I entered into this industry and I am proud of the fact that despite having done less work I'm still very much in this industry and that even the shows I am called for are the one's which include at least four or five of the actresses who are current in this industry in terms of movies. I do believe that I have a very long way to go.

EI : Tell us about Bro and Sis productions?

MB : A Bro and Sis production's is owned by my bro and I, 'Katputali' was our first movie. I take great pride in the fact that despite that being our very first venture; we were able to make it on time and most importantly breakeven. We do have a few movies in the pipeline and are currently awaiting funds. Movie making is a different struggle altogether and now that I'm a year old in this field and I know the tricks of the trade it makes no sense to invest my own money. I would like to be a successful movie maker and have a successful and rolling production house.

EI : There has been this recent issue, questioning your sexual orientation. Are you a lesbian? Or was that an experiment?

MB : Absolutely not, the whole episode was a result of a drunk, spur of the moment event that was blown out of proportion. Who hasn't done something wild and brash in their lives? And as far as experiments go, id never experiment with a woman, with a man on the other hand, that's a different story.

EI : Hmm... so do you have a boyfriend? Are you looking for one?

MB : I don't have a boyfriend. I've come across people who tell me, why you don't just date someone, 'time pas ke liye rakh le', but I don't see the point in wasting emotions or agreeing to something that could very well be a useless emotional drain. I am very content with life and love myself and that should more than suffice, I don't think I need additional motivation or comfort I'm strong that way. Lastly, it is easier to find guys, they come your way, this day and age it is a cumbersome task to come across a good dress of your choice, you have to go to dedicated dress hunting. I have these set of qualities I look for in a man, has to be intellectual, great sense of humor, im a sucker for love so has to be very loving.

EI : Do you have a Bucket list?

MB : I really want to have a baby; I think it is the most magical experience and I'm not very keen on marriage, I know quite a predicament. There is this one thing I really want to do, I want to build and manage an old age home. I want it to have five star facilities, I hate people who disrespect their parents and in their time of need abandon them. I think, all any parent would want is to have their children take care of them and give them company.

EI : How have you dealt with attention?

MB : Well since I was 13 years old, I have had people looking at me, wanting to be around me and be with me. I have never allowed to let that go to my head. There used to be a time I used to come back home, look in the mirror and ask myself 'why'. I'm proud of my personality for which I'll have to thank my mom but other than that, I don't think I'm all that pretty.

EI : Idea of escape?

MB : Well I rely on my family largely for an escape. I'm most comfortable around them, they don't judge or criticize you and accept you the way they are. Here is what I do, I pick up the first job comes my way, travel around with my friends and spend hours talking to them.

EI : Tell us about the Mink philosophy of life?

MB : Love yourself, love life; enjoy the small things in life. I personally am a family oriented girl and I love my mom. A lot of people don't realize when you are in a position to buy and eat a burger when you want it, that itself should give one a great sense of achievement and self contentedness. If you buy me a muffin of my choice that is the best gift I could ask for.
